

BIG News in a Small School...

Queens Lutheran School, in Astoria, is a small school with a big heart. Although, the entire student body consists of 48 students, Queens Lutheran School has collected of $565.25 to send to Haiti for their Earthquake Relief. These donations were received through Chapel offerings donated by the staff, students, and parents during the month of February.

Along with their contributions to Haiti, Queens Lutheran Schools has sponsored many organizations throughout the school year. They have sent funds to Saint Jude Children's Hospital, Doctors without Borders, and Pennies for Patients.

Hats off to Queens Lutheran School for a job well done!
